

PRY/OPEN TITANIUM

Description

Performance driven tool for prying, turning and opening things while organizing cluttered pockets. Made of titanium, it is our lightest tool but still retains the length of our large stainless tool for proper leverage. More than substantial enough for most daily tasks and a great savior for a knife blade or tip. The integrated clip keeps keys organized in the pocket and the included stainless cable ring allows for them to slide from side to side allowing for the use of the end that suits your needs.
